No Cell Phone Policy for Students

We understand the concern about reaching your child. Chaperones should have a cell phone in case of an emergency. Children are required to stay with their chaperone at all times. There will be a contact number from a teacher given to parents and chaperones along with the numbers for the school and Cross Country Tours. If an emergency should arise, you can call any of these numbers. Chaperones are asked to be sure that each child calls home at least once a day.

I understand that failure to comply with this agreement could result with the student being removed from the trip at the cost of student's parent or guardian.
